The Amazing Adventures of a Beautiful Girl Who is Forced to Join a Group of Men and Women Who Think Love a Sin and Marriage is not for this World-How She Regains Her Rightful Place in Society-Role is Cleverly and Dramatically Enacted by Grace Darling and a Strong Cast-A Thrilling Story of Love, Romance and Mystery-Beautiful Scenery of Adirondack Mountains Adds to Interest of Picture.

Eileen O'Hara lived far from civilization in a cabin in the Adirondacks with her father, a recluse, and the members of a weird group of fanatics known as "The Shining Band".

Because of the beautiful trout streams there came a band of clubmen who built a club house and overran the woods. War between the members of the band and the clubmen was immediately started, each trying to get rid of the other.

O'Hara, in reality was the owner of the property, having original grants, but he preferred to fight the matter out in his own way to going to the courts. So he placed dams across the streams and fired on the fishermen from ambush.

Young Dr. Lansing, who has been singed by the flame of love, and becomes a cynic, is sent to negotiate with O'Hara for the property. He meets Eileen, who threatens to shoot him. He laughs at her and tells her she never will become a lady.

Dr. Lansing, having failed in his mission, Peyster Sproul, president of the club, is given $1000,000 to negotiate a purchase. He meets O'Hara who recognizes him as the man who had wrecked his home years before. There is a fight and O'Hara is killed by the blow of the hoof of Sproul's frightened horse.

Sproul tells the club members that he has purchased the land and keeps the money to cover stock margins. In the meantime he tries to get hold of the grants which the head of the shining band tells him had been in O'Hara's possession and which have been hidden by Eileen.

Sproul's wife takes Eileen to the club where it is hoped she can be induced to part with the grants. There she meets Dr. Lansing again.

Finally, at a road house, Sproul attempts to take the grants from Eileen by force. Dr. Lansing and a number of others come on the scene and he is prevented.

Then the shining band in conspiracy with Sproul, attacks the club house. The band is driven off by the guards after a desperate battle, and Sproul is caught in his villiary, and after the fight Dr. Lansing and Eileen meet alone.
